

Police

by Daniel

Police officers help people. Who can join the police? Men and women can! A new police person is called a rookie. A rookie learns how to use guns. Rookies learn all about police work. Some police officers' uniforms are blue. Sometimes they wear hats that have badges. The badges have numbers.

Some police do not wear uniforms. They are detectives. They solve crimes. It is a great career.

People need to follow the laws. If they do not obey the rules, they go to jail. People cannot kill, hit others, or steal.

Police officers have gun belts, a gun, a nightstick, a whistle, handcuffs, and a two way radio. I like police officers.
